Sunday, January 19—6 P. M. lons, for the week, just closed, have been ry limited, and quotations have been very uniform— ne closing prices are, however, a fraction below those rrent early in the week, or at the close of the previous corrent carry in the week, or at the close of the previous one. It is impossible to get up any speculation of consequence in any fancy stock, so long as the money market continues in its present depressed state. The rate of interest is too high to permit profitable operations. The absence of capital from the street, and the restrictions placed upon the movements of the banks, have a very injurious effect on those stock speculators who depend upon bank favors or private loans to get up any owner in fancies. While these speculators of limited resources are restricted in their operations, operators of extensive means are compelled to remain quiet with their capitals means are compelled to remain quiet with their capitals on deposit—unable to use them to advantage. The principal operations in Wall street are now made between the brokers, and a declining market invariably drives outside speculators from the street. When prices are going up, and the excitement is daily gaining strength, adventurers make their appearance in Wall street, enxicus to invest their surplus, and sometimes their all, in the hazardeus and one-sided game carried on in that vicinity so extensively. During the stock speculations of last January and June, ministers, doctors, poets, lawyers, merchants, mechanics, carmen, cabmen, and even hostlers, became speculators, many of whom left among the merchants, mechanics, carmen, cabmen, and even hostlers, became speculators, many of whom left among the brokers every dollar they previously possessed. It is the effect of these excitements that furnishes food to the brokers, and the aftener they come up the more for their interest. Quotations in this market have, since the re-quit of the Presidential election been known, been stead? By declining, until prices now rule lower than at any time during the next lier mostly. during the past six months. This continued de ion does not suit either of the two great parties in Pall street-the buils or the bears; they require fre quent up+and downs. A long period of improvement is as little wanted as a long period of depression. The brokers must soon be compelled to get up some speculative move-ment, and we have no doubt the banks will come

We annex our usual comparative table giving the quo-tions for the principal stocks used in this market for speculation for each day of the past week. It will be ob ery d that prizes have experienced but slight alter pany are to be everhauled through a chancery suit, and very thoroughly. Some of the stockholders, under the new company, are induced to make some movement in to call for action in the premises.

A resolution has been introduced into the lower House of the Legislature of Pennsylvania, that the committee on bunks be instructed to inquire into the expediency of repealing the sot of last session chartering the Lehigh County Bank, and that the said committee have power to send for persons and papers, or to take by commission depositions of individuals, should they think proper so to do. The resolution was strongly advecated, and the exposure of as great a piece of rascality as ever existed promised in case of an investigation. Mr. Struthers, of Easton, stated that $64,000 of the stock of the Lehigh County stated that $84,000 of the stock of the Lehigh County Bank had been paid in Plainfield bank notes, which were not worth seventy-five cents on the dollar. Mr. Brady expressed himself in favor of the resolution, and believed, in the case of the Lehigh County Bank, there had been frauds, which he was in favor of ferretting out. The re-solution passed by a large majority, and we may soon ex-pect a report. We trust the committee will thoroughly investigate this concern, and give the public the benefit of their discoveries. We have here an official statement, showing that the issues of the Plainfield Bank, to an amount several thousand dollars larger than the total cur-Plainfield Bank of New Jersey, on the 28th of December last, reported the circulation of that institution to be $81.469, of which from fifty to sixty thousand dollars in bills, principally of small denomination, were in circula-tion in this city and vicinity; at the same time we find that $84,000 of the bills of this bank were paid into the Lehigh County Bank, at Allentown, Pennsylvania, as that $34,000 of the bills of this bank were paid into the Lehigh Cownty Bank, at Alientown, Pennsylvania, as part of the capital stock of that bank. According to this statement the actual circulation of the Flainfield Bank could not, at that time, have been much less than $140,000. This being a settled fact, what confidence can the public have in the official reports of such an institution? With a nominal capital of only $50,000, we have already found issues of its bills amounting to about $140,000, and how many more are in circulation would be a difficult question to settle. The legislature of N. Jersey cannot do otherwise than investigate the affairs of this bank. Let a committee be appointed to search thoroughly the movements of this institution, and give a detailed report of its condition. Give the committee power to send for persons and papers, and by commission to take the depositions of individuals. The public require a complete examination into this thing, and the Legislature is bound to grant it. The Legislature of any State should, upon proper representation, investigate the affairs of any banking institution within its jurisdiction; having the power to grant charters, to establish banks, it is obliged to protect the people against any illegal practices these banks may attempt. In the event of a committee being appointed to investigate the affairs of the Painfield Bank we would suggest that particular enquiries be instituted in relation to the specie item; whether the amount on hand, at the time of the investigation, we a fair average of the amount usually in the bank, and whether it was obtained for the express purpose of appearing in the report. All the report of banks made by commissioners, by All the reports of banks mede by commissioners, by committees, or by the directors of the banks, have heretefore been very superficial, and have not answered the purpose intended. We want the details procured from an actual examination of every department, particularly in records under in relation to banks, superstant of being in reports made in relation to banks suspected of being in The payment of the February interest on the public ebt of Pennsylvania, is still a very doubtful question. The passage of the bill directing the interest, due in Febnot otherwise appropriated," will be, according to recent reports from the State treasury, null and void. It appears, from one report, that there will be in the treasu-ry, on the 1st of February, $316,449 63, of which there is ry, on the 1st of February, $416,449 63 of which there is already appropriated, $598 405, leaving only $248,044 applicable to the payment of the interest. The interest duin February amounts to $971,395, which is $124,946 more than the sum estimated will be in the treasury, consequently the interest cannot be paid in full in cash, without borrowing the deficiency, to do which the Treasurer has no authority. As an offset to these deductions, another report states, that the appropriation year and the fiscal year of the State are not identical—the first terminating on the 1st of June, 1845, and the latter on the 30th of November, 1844. The appropriation bill passed in May, 1844, covered all expenditures, up to the 1st of June, 1845, and has about four months to run, consequently the sum to be expended, under the provisions of that bill, will, to a certain extent, be collected after the 1st of February. This shows still more conclusively that the State is not able to pay the February interest in cash. To do so, more than one hundred thousand dollars must be borrow and and the Treasury must be drained of every dollar.—

d and the Treasury must be drained of every dollar.—
The next dividend becomes due in August, only six months hence, within which time appropriations amounting to $698.405, and the interest amounting to $971,395.
making an aggregate of $1.869.800, must be collected be paid, but would it be fassible to do so? Would it not compel a suspension in August, and reduce the credit of the Blate much lower than the present point. In a State like Pennsylvanis, it is not safe to estimate resources and receipts; out of a tax of $937,000 levied in 1844, eight hundred thousand dollars remeined uppaid on the lat inst. The other resources of the States are just as uncertain as the taxes, and it must appear apparent to any calm observer, that nothing could be more suicidal than the payment in Tull in cash, of the interest on the debt due in February.

THE CAPITOL,

Final Disposition of the Clerk of the House—His Removal and Appointment of Successor-The De-falcation more Certain-Commencement of Criminal Prosecutions against the Parties Using the Money - The Law - The Chinese Treaty.

minal Prosecutions against the Parties Using the Money—The Law—The Chinese Treaty.

James Gordon Bennett:—

The investigation into the accounts of Col. C. J. McNully, the Clerk of the House of Representatives, terminated a few moments since, by his final dismissal from his position in the House, and the commencement of legal proceedings and criminal prosecutions against him, to secure the balance of the public money due from him, and for an embezzlement of the sum of $44,500, alleged to be unaccounted for. The committee of accounts reported that Mr. Kershaw, the accounting clerk, had appeared before them this morning, and presented some accounts and vouchers, which they had examined so far as time would permit That Mr. Kershaw, when asked relative to the place of deposit of the money alleged to be due, referred the committee to Mr. McNulty himself, who was not present before them. Between that period and the hour of two o'clock, Mr. Taylor, of the committee of accounts, stated that he had received a note from Mr. McNulty, in which he stated that in reply to the question put to Mr. Kershaw by the committee, that he had the sum of $29,000 placed to his credit in the Bank of America, in New York city. This communication, not including the evidence of the crifficate of deposit, or a letter of notice from the bank, was deemed unsatisfactory to the committee, and they therefore concluded that the complexion of the case had not been changed since yesterday. The resolutions offered by them yesterday, for his dismissal from his office, and prosecution, published in the Herald, were then taken up for adoption—Mr Weller, of Ohio, one of the securities of Mr. McNulty, rose and stated that he was compelled to asseat to these resolutions, as he found he had been deceived by the representations of the Clerk, although he still believed that the Government would not loose a dollar by his acts. The resolution for the dismissal of the Clerk, and to secure the balance of the money due, by legal proceedings, bussed unanimously, and nessed unanimously, and the following with but five nays:—

Resolved. That the President of the United States be directed to cause cr.minal prosecutions to be commenced against Caleb J McNulty, late Clerk of this House, for an embezzlement of the public money, and all persons advising or knowingly and willingly participating in such embezzlement, according to the provisions of the act of Congress, approved August 18, 1841.

The section of the law governing the criminal prosecution as referred to, is as follows:—

"Sac. 2. And be it further enacted. That if any officer charged with the safe keeping, transfer, or disbursement of the public moneys, or connected with the Post Office Department, shall convert to his own use, in my way whatever, or shall luse by way of investment in any kind of property or merchandize, or shall lean, with or without interest, any portion of the public moneys entrusted to him for safe keeping, transfer, disbursement, or for any other purpose, every such act shall be deemed and adiaged to be an embezziement of so much of the said moneys as shall be thus taken, converted, invested, used, or loaned, which is bereby declared to be a felony; and the neglect or refusal to pay over on demand any public moneys in his hands upon the presentation of a draft, or der, or warrant drawn by him, and signed by the Secretary of the Treasury, or to transfer a disburse any such moneys promptly, according to law, on the legal requirement of a superior officer, shall be prime facie evidence of such conversion to his own use of so much of the public moneys as may be in his hands. Any officer or agent of the United States of competent juri-diction, shall for every such offence iorleit and pay to the United States a fine equal to the amount of the money embezzled, and shall suffer imprisonment for a term not less than six months, nor more than five years."

During the proceedings, Orville Hungeford, Esq., one of the committee of accounts, presented a letter he had received from Suydam, Sage & Co., of New Yor

Col. McNuity still insists that his accounts will be balanced and that the government will not lose a dollar. My impression is, that the money has been placed in hands not quite prepared to return it, but there is still a hope that it will be forthcoming.

been placed in hands not quite prepared to return it, but there is still a hope that it will be forthcoming.

Immediately after the adoption of the before named resolutions, the House proceeded to the election of Clerk, when B. B. French, a democrat, of New Hampshire, the late chief clerk, was elected Clerk of the House by a unanimous vote. The House then adjourned. He immediately appointed Daniel Gold, of Delaware county, New York, his chief clerk, and Charles A. Bradford, of Mississippi, a deputy clerk. Mr. Bradford was removed from the office of deputy clerk during the recess by Col. McNulty, and it is rumored that Mr. French will remove John Kershaw, one of the deputy clerks, who has been employed by Mr. McNulty as his accounting clerk. The Clerk has the appointment of twelve deputies at the rate of $1500 are ananum, for the blance of this seesion, the librarian of the house at $3 50 per day, five messengers at $2 50, and a laborer at $1 50; but it is not supposed that there will be any other important changes, although half the members of the House have candidates for clerkships

The Chinese Treaty cannot be obtained at the present date, although it is not to be presumed that it will be retained in the hands of the President until ratified by both perties, as has heretofore been customary. You shall be early supplied with a copy, so also the superlative, exalted, and extraordinary correspondence that has passed between the Chinese Commissioner and Mr. Cushing.

Much anxiety is felt here for the result of the election of Senators from your State, by the Legislature. It is stated that Governor Porter will be chosen from the State of Pennsylvania through whig votes.

TWENTY-EIGHTH CONGRESS

House of Representatives.

Meuse of Representatives.

Washington, Saturday, Jan. 18.
Prayers as usual. Minutes read by Mr. French, Acting Clerk.

Mr. Vancz, of Ohio, rose and said that, up to the present time, notwithstanding the lapse of the session, only one bill had passed the house, and he really thought they ought to proceed to business. This was private bill day, and he moved that the rules be ruspended, and the House proceed to the consideration of the private calendar.

Mr. Burn saked that a resolution he held in bis hand he read—it was, that a committee be instituted to enquire whether any additional legislation was required to secure the safe keeping and disbursement of the con ingent fund, and if it were, that they report a bill for that purpose.

The austing was then taken on the suspension of the fund, and if it were, that they reports out for that pose.

The question was then taken on the suspension of the rules, and a division being had, it was agreed to, $4 to $9.

The House then resolved itself into Committee of the Whole, Mr. Weitz, of Ky., in the Chair, and proceeded to the consideration of the private calendar.

An adverse report to a petition for relief of John Fossett was the first in order, which was read.

Mr. Hamlin, of Me, moved that it be re-committed, that a favorable report might be made.

CAVE JOHNSEN rose to order. The course to be pursued was to report to the House with a recommendation to recommit.

CAVE JOHNSON SAID THE PROPERTY OF THE COURSE to be pursued was to report to the House with a recommendation to recommit.

Mr. Hamin amended his motion to that effect. Mr. Hornins, of Va. hoped that the gentleman would reconsider his intention, as it was not probable that the committee would report differently.

Mr. Hamin said he hoped that the House would reverso the report, and would move that the report should be amended by striking out the report and granting the claim, (about $164.)

The motion to re-commit was then put and carried.

The next was n bill for the relief of Joseph M. Hernandex.

Mr. Vancz moved that it be laid reide. Adopted.

The next was "A bill to provide for the payment of the passage of Gen. La Fayette from France to the United States, in the year 1822."

Cave Johnson said there was neither law nor common sense for the support of this claim, and opposed it.

Mr. Vancz, of Obio, supported the claim, and argued that it should be gaid.

Mr. Panmayster, of Mass., opposed the claim, as it was not founded in justice; it had been rejected on previous occasions, and ought not to be paid. Gen. Lafayette had offered to pay his passage, and the owners has refused to take any pay, and had volunteered to carry him here, and they certainly had not any right to come upon the General Government.

Mr. Carlin, of Conn., supported the claim. He thought it was a Just one; and thony each offered to take any pay, and had not any right to come upon the General Government.
